Instructor: Jesse Robertson, Ph.D., CPA
BLB 385K
jesse.robertson@unt.edu; 940.369.8156

Office Hours: Monday 1:00pm-2:00pm, 5:00pm-6:00pm
Wednesday 1:00pm-2:00pm

Materials:

1. Contemporary Auditing: Real Issues & Cases. Knapp. 9th ed. 2013 (Required)
2. Pearson Custom Resource: Accounting Cases. (Required).
  - a. If you cannot obtain the custom case book, you need to purchase this book:
Auditing Cases: An Interactive Learning Approach. Beasley, Buckless, Glover, Prawitt. 2012. 5th ed.
3. An external audit textbook (Recommended)

Course Description and Prerequisite: The investigative process known as auditing is covered. Typical topics include professional issues, ethical responsibilities, the auditor's role in society, audit planning, the evaluation of evidence pertaining to internal controls and account balances, and the auditor's consideration of fraud. Audit cases and short essays allow students to improve their technical auditing skills, their understanding of professional and ethical issues, and their understanding of current issues in practice. Prerequisite: ACCT 4400.

Class Website: A class website will be established and maintained throughout the course on Blackboard Learn (go to <http://cob.unt.edu/> and click the link at the top for "Blackboard Learn"). Notes, cases, etc. will be available on Blackboard. I also post grades on Blackboard. Please note that the grades available on Blackboard are unofficial.

Learning Objectives:

- Improve your technical auditing competence through class discussion and cases
- Improve your understanding of current issues in auditing
- Improve your critical thinking skills to better apply professional judgment
- Improve your ability to convey information through written and oral communications

Methods of Instruction: Discussion and application through cases and other active learning techniques.

Course Topics: This course explores current issues in auditing including professional (soft) skills, ethical responsibilities, professional skepticism, the auditor's role in society, audit planning, and the auditor's consideration of fraud.

TOTAL	500

Cases and Audit Teams: We use cases to develop technical auditing knowledge and critical thinking skills, and to improve your understanding of professional issues, ethical issues, and current issues in auditing. Each audit team will be responsible for presenting one case during the semester and turning in write-ups of two other cases (a total of three graded cases per team). All graded team cases can be found in the Knapp (2013) and Beasley et al. (2012) case book/Custom Case book. You may choose your initial audit team of 4-5 students, but if you do not provide a list of the individuals on your team during the first class meeting (one list per team), I will assign you to a team. Depending on final enrollment, I may assign extra team members or reassign students to different teams. Files providing guidance on presentations and preparing written assignments are available on Blackboard.

Cognitive Bias Presentation: Each team will be assigned a cognitive bias, and will make a presentation demonstrating how the assigned cognitive bias can influence an auditor's judgment.

Deloitte Trueblood Case: We will complete the Deloitte Trueblood case, "Billy's Beats", in class. This case focuses on audit procedures.

Professionalism: Your professionalism grade is based on the following components:

- Material contribution to class discussion throughout the semester. Prepare for each class and be ready to ask questions and answer questions raised by your colleagues. Taking notes does not constitute participation (15 points).
- Not causing distraction through the use of electronics. You can use laptops, ipads, etc. to take notes, but the active use of audio recorders, cell phones and other electronic communication devices is prohibited without explicit approval from me. As a professional courtesy, do not use electronic devices while teams are presenting or when guest speakers are talking to the class (10 points).
- Professionalism of emails and appointments. You do not need an appointment during office hours. If you make an appointment outside of office hours, you should either arrive on time or notify me in advance if you cannot attend on time (5 points).

Reflection Papers (RP): Each student individually will write two RPs throughout the semester. The objectives of the RPs are to improve your critical thinking skills, your understanding of current issues in auditing, and your writing ability. The RP Assignments and Written Assignment Instructions files on Blackboard Learn provide more information.

- RP1: The Biggest Problem Facing the Auditing Profession. Explain what the problem is, why it is a problem, and propose a solution to address the problem.
- RP2: Audit Partner Disclosure. Discuss the pros and cons of the PCAOB's proposal to disclose the name of the lead audit partner in the audit report, and provide a recommendation of whether this proposal should be implemented.

Exams: There will be a midterm exam and a final exam. Any course material is fair game for exam content, including reading assignments that we might not explicitly discuss in class.

You may take a makeup exam under extraordinary circumstances, which I must approve prior to the exam you miss. To be eligible for a makeup exam, you must provide adequate documentation such as a doctor's excuse. For medical absences, I do not need to know the cause of the absence. Simply document you were under a doctor's care on the exam date, could not return to school until after the exam date, etc. If I approve a makeup exam, you have two options: (1) take the makeup exam during the designated non-negotiable makeup time; or (2) use the final exam to make up the points. An unexcused absence on exam day or the makeup day will result in a zero grade that cannot be made up in any way.

Exam Retention: Exams will be retained for one year following the completion of the semester and then destroyed.

Finals Week: In the past, UNT has rearranged the final exam schedule due to inclement weather. You should consider this possibility when making end-of-semester travel arrangements.

Late assignments: Late assignments will receive a zero that cannot be made up in any way, unless you provide adequate documentation such as a doctor's excuse. All deadlines are the beginning of class on the due date unless otherwise noted. This policy applies to both individual and team assignments.

Submitting Written Assignments: You must submit the two team written cases and the two reflection papers in two formats:

1. Hard-copy: The "Written Assignments Instructions.docx" file on Blackboard provides instructions on how to format printouts and other relevant information.
2. TurnItIn: TurnItIn is an online tool available to faculty at UNT to help detect academic misconduct. Students are required to submit written assignments for this class to Turnitin, a web-based plagiarism detection service. Before submitting your paper to Turnitin, please remove your title page and other personal information. Any paper that is not submitted to Turnitin prior to submission to the instructor will not be accepted by the instructor and will not be graded. You must submit your cases to TurnItIn using Blackboard Learn. To do this, log on to Learn, enter our class page, and click the link for Course Content on the left. Once you are on the Course Content page, click to View/Complete the appropriate assignment, and begin the process of uploading your assignment. Only one team member should submit each case.

Academic Dishonesty: Academic dishonesty will not be tolerated. Academic dishonesty includes cheating, plagiarism, forgery, fabrication, facilitating academic dishonesty, and sabotage. These actions are defined in the UNT academic integrity policy, available at http://policy.unt.edu/sites/default/files/untpolicy/pdf/7-Student\_Affairs-Academic\_Integrity.pdf. You can find additional information on academic integrity at <http://vpaa.unt.edu/academic-integrity.htm>. Possible penalties for academic dishonesty include a zero grade for the assignment, project, exam, etc. on which the student(s) engaged in academic dishonesty and course failure. The failure to return any part of an exam or scantron at any time you have these materials is an act of academic misconduct that will at minimum result in a grade of zero for that exam. Academic dishonesty on team assignments may result in penalties for all team members. Any grade reduction based on academic dishonesty cannot be made up in any way.

Acceptable Student Behavior: Student behavior that interferes with an instructor's ability to conduct a class or other students' opportunity to learn is unacceptable and disruptive and will not be tolerated in any instructional forum at UNT. Students engaging in unacceptable behavior will be directed to leave the classroom and the instructor may refer the student to the Dean of Students to consider whether the student's conduct violated the Code of Student Conduct. The university's expectations for student conduct apply to all instructional forums, including university and electronic classroom, labs, discussion groups, field trips, etc. The Code of Student Conduct can be found at www.deanofstudents.unt.edu.

Withdrawals: The Accounting Department strictly enforces university policy regarding W/WF grades. It is your responsibility to be aware of and comply with any university, college, and departmental deadlines relating to withdrawals.

Disability Accommodations: UNT complies with the Americans with Disabilities Act in making reasonable accommodations for qualified students with disabilities. If you wish to request such accommodations, please notify me as soon as possible so we can make arrangements. To obtain disability accommodations, you must first go through the UNT Office of Disability Accommodation (ODA). The ODA will give you a letter confirming your status. To receive accommodations, you must present this letter to me at least one week in advance of the first graded in-class assessment for which you wish to receive accommodations.

Teaching Evaluations: I am more interested in the feedback you provide as part of the teaching evaluation process than whether evaluations are conducted online or by using paper and pencil. I truly am interested in the feedback you provide.
