The M.B.A. in Business Management is an intensive 11-month, full-time, cohort-style degree program. This daytime program begins in the second summer session of each academic year and ends the following spring. Accepted students will be taught by the Ryan College of Business' leading faculty and receive extensive industry experience working on real business situations. Strongly anchored in industry based experiential learning, the program is designed to develop and nurture future managers and business leaders who are change agents, and create value for their organization by integrating diverse resources, knowledge and capabilities.
